1. Things That Went Well

We were able to complete 2 sprint backlog items with high story points that were User Authentication (PBI 3) and Choosing customization (PBI 4). With this we now have a working shippable product with a good-looking UI and database setup.

2. Things That Could Have Gone Better

We missed out on completing 2 items that included admin functionality because we could not find good enough resources for learning Admin Panel setup on websites.

3. Things That Surprised Us

We were considering 'Administration of accounts' (PBI 1) and 'Generation of reports'(PBI 2) to be quite easy and less time consuming but to our surprise it came out to be quite challenging and hard to learn as not much resources are available on the internet for the same.

4. Lessons Learned

Learned how to carry out and manage software development project tasks in a team. Also learned how to perform requirement gathering and analysis. One of the outcomes was also that as a team we learned how to carry out a project in an agile manner.

5. Final Thoughts

Tasks which are completed need to be reviewed by the product owner and if implemented correctly we will move forward with the remaining tasks.

Uncompleted tasks are moved to the next sprint.
